Welcome

Welcome to the 11th annual St. Augustin Auction sponsored by the Home and School Association. We hope you enjoy our "Barn Bash" featuring fun music, delicious food, great shopping and the opportunity to visit with old friends and make some new friends.

The school will be filled with a wide variety of merchandise donated by the generous families and friends of St. Augustin School, Church and area businesses. Please take this opportunity to support our school by: signing your child(ren) up for some fun activities with teachers and friends in the student fixed bid section; sign yourself up for some great adult fixed bid activities; bid on one of the fabulous live auction items; buy a raffle ticket; check out the many silent auction items and most importantly have a good time!

As you know, Home and School is a parent volunteer group, which supports and enhances the education of St. Augustin students. Our annual auction is what enables us to supplement the many extra programs that we would not be able to afford otherwise. This includes Staff Development, Talking Canvas, D.A.R.E, and many other programs which benefit our children and teachers. Home and School is a wonderful organization, and your generosity as both volunteers and donors, helps to ensure its viability, and support the greatest cause – OUR CHILDREN.

Once again we have invited various parish groups to participate in this event by offering fixed bid items. Money raised from the fixed bids for these activities will benefit the sponsoring parish group. We were happy to make this offer, and appreciate the participation and support of the parish groups.

On behalf of the many volunteers who have worked to put together this fun, fabulous evening, I thank you for joining us and supporting our commitment to Catholic education!

So saddle up for a good time!!!

God bless –
Laura Doll – Chair, "Barn Bash" 2009

general Auction Rules

The number card given to you is your auction bidding number. Your bidding number will identify you as the winning bidder in either the Fixed, Silent or Live Auction.

Unless otherwise specified, all certificates must be used within one year, and the arrangements for use of such items must be mutually agreed upon between the donor and buyer. Please honor the terms of the certificates.

It is the winning bidder's responsibility to contact the donors of all auction items that are to be picked up, delivered, or arranged in some way (i.e.; date set for a party) as soon as possible after "Barn Bash" 2009. This is a courtesy that should be extended to all donors.

All sales are final and there can be no exchange or refunds for items purchased. All items are sold as is. The Home and School Association makes no express or implied warranties on auction items other than those from the manufacturer, which may be included in your purchase.

The Barn Bash committee reserves the right to move any item from the Silent Auction to the Live Auction if the item is generating significant attention.

We accept MasterCard, Visa, cash or check (made payable to St. Augustin Home and School) for payment at checkout. Actual items may vary slightly from the printed description in the program.

live auction rules

The Live Auction begins promptly at 8:15 p.m. and continues until all items have been sold.

If you wish to bid on an item, hold your bid number high in order to attract the attention of the auctioneer and spotters. Decisions of the Auctioneer are final.

Winning bidders should furnish the "spotter" with their bid number and name after each item is sold.

silent auction rules

The Silent Auction begins at 6 p.m. and continues through the evening, closing in intervals, ending at 9:30 p.m.

Items are on display and have a corresponding bid sheet. If you wish to bid on the item, record your assigned number and your bid amount on the sheet. Opening bids need not equal the assigned value, unless a minimum bid amount is specified.

Each bid increase must be a minimum of $5 and bids must be in full dollar amounts to be valid.

Use only the number assigned to you. Using a name instead of a number constitutes an invalid bid and will not be accepted.

When the Silent Auction concludes, the last valid bid will be expected to be honored in full.

fixed bid rules

Similar to last year, teachers and friends of St. Augustin have put together some marvelous outings/activities for the kids as well as for the adults. All fixed bids will begin at 6:45 p.m. and will close at 9:30 p.m. There is a designated fixed bid location, where signup sheets will be located. These are at set prices per slot, and all slots are first come first serve.

Again this year, we have added a Buy It Now event that took place a few days ahead of the auction; therefore, some fixed bids may not be available at the auction. If you cannot attend the auction, you will need to find another parent with a bidding number to sign up for you. The slot must be paid for the night of the auction. All slots are non-refundable and non-negotiable and are at the complete discretion of those providing the parties. Please make sure your child is dropped off and picked up on time for the party.

checkout procedure

Checkout will begin at 10 p.m. or when the announcement is made. If you need to leave early use one of the following two ways to settle your purchases: 1) Leave a blank check; or 2) your credit card information at registration. Payment in full is required at checkout. We accept cash, checks (made payable to St. Augustin Home and School), MasterCard or Visa. In the case of group bidders we ask that one person be designated to pay in full during checkout. After payment is received, gift certificates and purchased items will be retrieved for you.

All purchases must be picked up the night of the auction, unless otherwise specified.

Section 6115 of the Internal Revenue Code imposes certain disclosure requirements on charitable organizations that receive quid pro quo contributions in excess of $75. A quid pro quo contribution is a payment made partly as a contribution and partly as consideration for goods and services provided by the charitable organization. For example, a donor contributes $100 and receives a concert ticket valued at $40. In this example, a quid pro quo disclosure statement is required; the quid pro quo contribution is $100 while the amount deductible for federal income tax purposes is $60. If the value of the goods and services received by the donor is greater than or equal to the amount of the contribution, there is no charitable deduction, but St. Augustin Home and School is still required to furnish a disclosure statement if the quid pro quo contribution exceeds $75.

The quid pro quo disclosure statement will provide the donor with a good faith estimate of the value of the goods or services provided by the donor organization. This statement will also inform the donor that the deductible amount of their contribution is limited to the excess of the amount paid by the donor over the value of the property or services received by the donor in return.

Thank You!
